

How do we get 42 generations (14+14+14) when only 41 are listed in Matthew 1? We look at all of the words that God wrote. When we do, the answer is in plain English: David is counted twice (once in the first, and once in the second set of 14) and the generation of the Babylonian captivity is not counted in the second set of 14.

Matthew 1:17

So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

Notes:

- Think of “to” and “unto” as “up to and including”.
- Think of “until” as “up until” or “just before”.
- The Babylonian captivity began the same year that Eliakim/Jehoiakim and his two sons named Jehoiachin were carried off to Babylon (2Ch 36:9,10, Jer 29:1,2,10).
 - Refer to the the article entitled “Kings of Judah & Israel timeline” for a chart of timing data.
 - Refer to the article entitled “Amazing facts about the kings of Israel & Judah that you probably didn't notice” to learn more about Eliakim's two sons named Jehoiachin.

Misc notes:

- Josias did not make it into Babylon.
- Jehoahaz/Shallum was taken and would not return (Jer 22:11).
 - He is not listed in Matthew 1 and the Babylonian captivity did not begin until the 11th year after his reign ended (assuming his reign began and ended in the same year; his reign lasted 3 months).
- Eliakim/Jehoiakim was carried to Babylon before dying and after reigning for 11 years in Jerusalem (2Ch 36:4-6, 2Ki 24:6).
