Which books of the Bible are in “the law”?

At first it might seem like a silly question to even ask. Everyone knows that the books of the law are:

- Genesis
- Exodus
- Leviticus
- Numbers
- Deuteronomy

Right? Well, yes but also no:

> John 10:34
> Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

And if we check, there is only one possible verse that Jesus could be referencing and it is not in the Mosaic Pentateuch.

> Psalms 82:6
> I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High.

Now that is interesting. If we continue to search, we will also find that that type of reference isn’t the only one.

> John 15:25
> But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

Which is a reference to one or more of the following which are all in the book of the Psalms (1Pe 1:11):

> Psalms 35:19
> Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.
>
> Psalms 69:4
> They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.
>
> Psalms 109:3
> They compassed me about also with words of hatred; and fought against me without a cause.

John 12:34
The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?

Which is found more directly in one or more of the following:

Psalms 89:36-37
36 His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me.
37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven. Selah.

Psalms 110:1,4
1 The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.
...
4 The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

Isaiah 9:7
Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.

Daniel 7:14
And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

Micah 4:7
And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

But, less directly, could also be interpreted from the “traditional” law (the Mosaic Pentateuch):

Genesis 17:7
And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

Genesis 49:10
The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be.

Gen 22:8 + Exo 15:18

Numbers 25:13
And he shall have it, and his seed after him, even the covenant of an everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Israel.

> 1 Corinthians 14:21
> In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

Which appears to be a reference to the book of Isaiah (Deu 28:49 comes close, but it does not include any equivalent phrase for "will they not hear me"):

> Isaiah 28:11-12
> 11 For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.
> 12 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

> Romans 3:10-19 (cf. Rom 3:21)
> 10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:
> 11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.
> 12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
> 13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:
> 14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:
> 15 Their feet are swift to shed blood:
> 16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:
> 17 And the way of peace have they not known:
> 18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.
> 19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

Verses	Cross-reference(s)
v10-12	Psa 14:2-3, 53:2-3
v13	Psa 5:9
v14	Unknown. Psa 10:7 (singular, lacks synonym for bitterness), Psa 59:12 (plural, lacks synonym for bitterness)
v15-17	Isa 59:7-8
v18	Psa 36:1?

Take note that none of the references that Rom 3:10-18 provides are in the Mosaic Pentateuch?

Wherefore, we should be very careful when examining the context of a passage and never assume that "the law" always means the first five books of the Bible (the Mosaic Pentateuch, the Torah, the books of Moses, the five books of Moses).
